BENNINGER SAVES 80% ON OPERATIONAL COSTS WITH JIVS IMP

Benninger is a Swiss company and has been the world's leading partner of the textile and tire cord industry for more than 160 years. It has subsidiaries as well as service agencies around the globe. Benninger develops and produces machines and systems for textile finishing and tire cord production, which it supplies as complete system solutions. Benninger has many years of experience in the automation of machines and systems which is also used successfully in other branches of industry.

„I’ve been bowled over by the speed and quality of the JVS IMP project. Feedback from the business side has also been positive. Employees report that working with JiVS IMP is more convenient than the legacy system.“

Alexander Rehbeck,
Head of IT, Benninger AG

SITUATION

- Strategic focus on the company’s core business has been central to the work of Benninger’s IT division since 2013
- The department has consolidated and harmonized the company’s application and system landscape into one central SAP system – with a single client and separate company codes for plants and locations worldwide
- This left Benninger with legacy systems from a variety of providers, running on different platforms
- Maintaining these systems is not only costly, but also demands a very particular level of expertise

SOLUTION

- A universal platform that could be used in the future to decommission other legacy systems
- In total, 230GB of data and around 5,000 tables were transferred to the platform
- JiVS IMP went live and the BRAIN system was switched off for one final time
- The platform proved itself so intuitive and easy to use that no further training was required

BENEFITS

The platform is intuitive and easy to use

Reduction in migration costs from the old SAP system to S/4HANA

Annual savings of around 80% on operational costs

Ready to support with the separation or integration of legacy information
